LIONEL MESSI IN MUMBAI

IISM Students at the G.O.A.T India Tour Event

IISM's students got the privilege of working in the G.O.A.T India Tour event as football's royalty & 2022 FIFA World Cup winner Lionel Messi arrived at the Wankhede stadium in Mumbai. Our young & dynamic Sports Management professionals were proactively involved in handling stadium operations, as part of TCM Platform's team. On the learning front, working to do crowd management at such a large scale event was a golden opportunity for our students. Such valuable exposure will go a long way in their journey to becoming leading sports events managers. They would've also felt thrilled to breathe the same air as Lionel Messi and we hope they get plenty more such opportunities in the future!

ITALIAN BUSINESS DELEGATION AT IISM

An esteemed high-level Italian business delegation graced the IISM Mumbai campus to discuss future synergies.

The Italian delegation was on a two-day visit to India — facilitated by the Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) — to advance talks on Italy & India's expanding economic partnership as the European country seeks India as a top priority market for business.

IISM's Founder Mr. Nilesh Kulkarni and Co-Founder & MD Ms. Rasika Kulkarni along with members of IISM's senior management were also present to welcome them.

We at IISM feel privileged to have these Italian delegates visiting our campus and will strive to be a key facilitator to fulfill their expectations.

IISM JOINS HANDS WITH IIM MUMBAI

One-Year Postgraduate Programme in Sports Management (PGPSM) Launched

IISM is proud to collaborate with IIM Mumbai as the two institutions are jointly launching a One-Year Postgraduate Programme in Sports Management (PGPSM). This is a path-breaking milestone for us at IISM — the pioneer of Sports Management education in India since 2010.

This new PGPSM course, jointly delivered by the esteemed IIM Mumbai and IISM faculty, is going to further our vision of shaping leading sports management professionals who are transforming India's sports ecosystem. IIM Mumbai's deep management expertise and its meticulous academic structure is going to elevate the value of this new programme to the next level.

The delivery of this programme will leverage sports and management foundational concepts like General Management, Operations, Finance, Marketing, Human Resources, Sports Business, Event and Facility Management, Sponsorships, Media and much more. Graduates enrolling in this PGPSM course will come out as highly capable sports business managers, sports entrepreneurs, athlete managers, sponsorship consultants, sports data analysts, and many similar professionals in the sports management realm.

IIM Mumbai's strong pedagogical foundation in management education coupled with IISM's live industry exposure, experiential learning opportunities and Masterclasses with sports industry stalwarts is going to help holistically develop sports managers who can hit the ground running in the industry.

We at IISM are elated to join hands with a storied institution like IIM Mumbai and believe that we shall be delivering on the vision of uplifting India's sports industry to newer heights.

Mumbai Hustle Elevated by IISM Students

Junoon — India's First Sports Management Fest — was back for a seventh edition as IISM's aspiring sports managers rolled up their sleeves and put up an amazing spectacle across three days.

The theme of this year's Junoon Sports Fest was 'Mumbai Hustle', capturing the essence and spirit of Mumbai city across various indoor and outdoor sports events.

From a classic Sports Quiz - 'Beyond the Arena' conducted by our esteemed quizmaster Mr. Milind Wagle to an intense IPL Auction - 'Billionaire's Row' headed by IISM alumnus Mr. Harsh Raut — it was a display of sporting expertise on both the organizers and participants' end.

The indoor sports held at the IISM campus included events like 'Controller cha Raja' - FIFA, 'The Mahalaxmi Mate' - Chess, 'Mandvi Pocket' - Carrom, 'Gully Royale' - BGMI and 'Tu-Tu-Main-Main' - Table Tennis.

Meanwhile, outdoor sports events like 'Gully to Glory' - Turf Cricket, 'Aamcha Maidan' - Turf Football, 'Bombay Shuttle' - Badminton, and 'Racket Raj' - Pickleball were held at The Sports Foundry facility in Bhandup, Mumbai.

The entire team of IISM students involved in the organizing of this Junoon Sports Fest were hands-on involved on all fronts. They had begun preparations for the three-day event over a month in advance, with a proper hierarchical structure and processes across various departments such as event operations, media, sponsorships, and social media marketing.

We're incredibly proud of these young dynamic students who once again implemented their classroom learnings in practical on-ground situations. Such practical implementation experiences will go a long way in the development of these aspiring sports management professionals.

IISM STUDENTS AT KHELO INDIA

Khelo India University Games - Rajasthan 2025

The 2025 edition of the Khelo India University Games had 50+ IISM students working in various capacities handling the operations of this mega event in Rajasthan, held across seven different cities. IISM was once again the Knowledge Partner for Khelo India and Sports Authority of India (SAI), as it has been for the past six years. And as for on-ground exposure, our aspiring sports managers got to work in over 13 different departments.

They were involved into athlete verification to university coordination, volunteer management to spectator management, coordinating post-game presentations of medals and certificates along with distribution & storage of sports kits. Around 20 of our students were also assisting the official broadcaster DD Sports in real-time broadcasting for keeping check of time, scores, records & results.

All in all, they got extensive exposure of working at a national level multi-sport competition. With modules like event management, venue operations, sports broadcasting, and data analytics in their sports management degree curriculum, this experience of working at the Khelo India University Games will help our students massively in understanding the nuances of each of these verticals. We're proud of these dynamic youngsters who're always ready roll up their sleeves and work in top national sports events like Khelo India and gain vital live exposure in the realm of sports management.

NATIONAL SPORTS POLICY 2025

Decoding NSP 2025 with IISM Faculty

The Indian government recently introduced a groundbreaking National Sports Policy (NSP) that aims at fostering the development of sports in the country, and not just in the playing arena.

Leveraging sports for the nation's economic development, inculcating sports in people's lives as a cultural phenomenon and strengthening India's athlete pool at the grassroots level — this NSP is a gamechanger for our sports industry.

Our esteemed faculty at IISM have given their perspective on this latest policy in an engaging video series on IISM's social media handles.

Ms. Avanti Desai, Mr. Rohit Walavalkar, Mr. Pankaj Athawale, Dr. Natarajan Pillai, Ms. Kinjal Mehta, Ms. Ayushi Dhakate, and Mr. Parth Pandya have provided interesting insights on how this NSP could revolutionize sports in India and could establish us as a 'Sporting Powerhouse' in the upcoming decades!

IISM SUPER LEAGUE

Experiential Learning on Athlete Management

Rounding off their curriculum for the Athlete Management module, our TYBSM students participated in the IISM Super League, which was the finale of their Experiential Learning activity conducted by Mr. Jitesh Mehta — the owner of Birbal Sports & Entertainment.

The initial round of this IISM Super League consisted of a Media Management activity a couple of months ago, which also had the attendance of India Women Cricketer Saima Thakor. Back then, students had to manage hypothetical press conference situations about athletes in various sports.

Cut to this finale, it involved students presenting their solutions for hypothetical sports business scenarios and applying their learnings of athlete management. And to evaluate them on multiple parameters, the judges panel involved Mr. Ronak Dalal — Partner at Birbal Sports & Entertainment and Mr. Rohit Walavalkar — Manager -Academics and Partnerships at IISM besides Mr. Mehta.

The four finalist teams namely, Team Agni, Team Stryde, Street 2 Stadium, and Blunt Force Trauma put forth their ideas and had to be astute in answering the judges' questions. However, it was Team Agni that scored the highest cumulative total across all parameters to take the IISM Super League trophy.

Ms. Aahana Mehta — a Celebrity Manager and Business Head at Entertainment Consultant - TM Ventures — was also present at the trophy presentation ceremony.

She gave her perspective about the nuances of celebrity and athlete management. She stated how students need to enhance their interpersonal skills and understand humans on a deeper level to be a successful athlete manager in the industry.

All in all, it was a highly engaging and knowledgeable event that taught everyone about how Athlete Management is a difficult ballgame.

MASTERCLASS

Mr. Yash Pathak Sports Presenter & Commentator

nature and pedigree he saw in our dynamic students at IISM. He praised how IISM is delivering on a vital need of Sports Education in India and producing top sports management professionals to enrich India's sports ecosystem.

Masterclass by Mr. Yash Pathak

A young and dynamic sports presenter & commentator — Mr. Yash Pathak recently graced the IISM campus for an amazing Masterclass session for our students.

Having worked as an Emcee and Host for Mumbai Indians, Mr. Pathak intrigued our aspiring sports management professionals, as they could relate with his journey into the world of anchoring and wanting to be a sports presenter & commentator.

Mr. Pathak was also impressed with the proactive

Masterclass by Ms. Kavita More

This month also saw Ms. Kavita More — the Head HR at Total Sports and Fitness — deliver a highly interactive Masterclass to IISM students on how to break into the growing Sports Industry.

Drawing on her extensive experience in Human Resource Management and handling several talented candidates in the Sports Retail sector, Ms. More enlightened our students about where they need to buckle up to land their dream roles in top sporting organizations.

From the skillsets recruiters look for to the mindset young professionals should develop — she gave a detailed overview of how IISM students can hit the ground running in the world of sports management. Overall, it was a really engaging and insightful session.

IISM STUDENTS VOLUNTEERING

A Taste of Real-World Sports Management

Our talented sports management professionals had the privilege to volunteer at the Tennis Premier League (TPL) 2025, applying their classroom learnings.

Having studied about how a professional sports league is organized with thousands of people working behind the scenes at IISM, these youngsters got the chance to explore the intricacies of league management hands-on.

They rolled up their sleeves to contribute across an array of functions during the TPL including marketing, social media, sponsor coordination, PR & operations. While these students had engaged in such activities at the IISM campus, doing it in a professional league setting is a whole different IISM students also got the opportunity to volunteer at the WNC Navy Half Marathon Mumbai.

Working side-by-side with the organizing team during this live exposure, our student volunteers handled on-ground operations of the marathon event quite well. They were involved in coordinating with the runners, ensured the accuracy of tags, and helped streamline any other responsibility needed to smooth run such a sports event.

Naturally, this volunteering experience taught them a lot with regards to problem-solving and working under pressure.

A Taste of Real-World Sports Management

Our aspiring sports managers also worked at the GoFlo Run 2025, which was raising awareness for menstrual health, women's fitness and community empowerment.

From route management to race-day operations, hospitality and crowd management, they were involved in multiple aspects of this event, implementing their theoretical learnings.

THE GREAT INFLATE RUN

Another running event where IISM's rockstars capitalized on learning sports event management on-field. An interesting inflatable obstacle course of 5 km was certainly an interesting event to work upon.

Though, our future sports managers had to be vigilant about the usual crowd management and handling on-ground operations from a logistical perspective.

With event operations management being a crucial pillar in the world of sports, such experiences are very important for IISM students, and they understand the same to maximize on such opportunities throughout their academic

IISM'S BOYS CRUISING TO VICTORY

Dominant wins in the MCA Senior College Cricket Tournament

IISM's student team has entered the MCA Senior College Cricket Tournament being held across the city of Mumbai from December 15th, 2025 to January 31st, 2026.

IISM's team played their opening game against Prahladrai Dalmia Lions Sr College Of Commerce, securing a mammoth 200-run victory! Our team's wicket keeper batter Arpit Dhadve's aggressive knock of 153 off just 97 deliveries was the highlight of this opening game.

The second game against Dr. Ambedkar College Of Commerce & Economics saw our team put up another clinical performance, clinching an 86-run win. Our team's captain Atharva Poojari produced a match-winning all-round performance with his knock of 50 (31) and a 4-wicket haul — 4/18!

They secured their third consecutive win against Bunts Sangha Mumbai's Anna Leela College, beating them in a low-scoring thriller, winning by 59 runs. All-rounder Bhavishya Gaikwad's 34 (25) and a clinical spell of 4/24 was the defining performance of the game.

With this victory, IISM's team have secured their place in the quarter-finals of this MCA Senior College Tournament and will be keen to progress further to bring home the trophy.

Athletic performance isn't just achieved on the field. There's a lot of groundwork that goes behind improving a player's physique, diet as well as physical & mental fitness, before they can perform at the highest level without much hassle.

And there's a perfect field of study that aims at optimizing performance in this way: Sports Science.

What is Sports Science?

Sports Science is the interdisciplinary study of how the human body and mind respond to exercise, training, and performance. It merges physiology, biomechanics, nutrition, psychology, data analytics, and technology to enhance every aspect of an athlete's preparation—from nutrition and recovery to mindset and movement.

While regular exercising and diet maintenance is still important, Sports Science goes a few steps forward to sophisticate these processes with nutritional evaluation, biomechanical analysis, and correcting exercise forms using physiology.

INDIA PREPARING FOR THE 2030 COMMONWEALTH GAMES & THE 2036 OLYMPICS

India's ambition to host the Commonwealth Games 2030 and the Olympic Games 2036 is rooted in a long and steadily evolving legacy of international sports hosting. Over the decades, India's journey as a host nation has reflected a clear progression, from taking major steps in earlier decades to recent several leagues hosting, driven by growing organizational capability, expanding infrastructure, and rising confidence on the global stage.

From the Asian Games in 1951 and 1982, which first established India's presence in multi-sport hosting and transformed broadcast and urban infrastructure, to the Commonwealth Games 2010, which generated significant economic impact through transport infrastructure, each major event has left behind tangible and intangible legacies.

Cricket World Cups, FIFA tournaments, Hockey World Cups, and global events like the FIDE Chess Olympiad have further reinforced India's reputation as a host capable of managing scale, diversity, and commercial complexity.
